

Kip Jaros, Ph.D., Education Administrator, CEO and founder of eHospitality Institute.

With more than thirty years of experience in the hospitality industry, he has assisted students, professionals, governments, corporations, and universities that span 2,263 Cities in 151 Countries/Territories on five Continents.

He has designed and implemented HACCP Guidelines for several food manufacturing companies and Food Safety Practices for retail operations worldwide.

Jaros assisted in the development of Alcohol Training Programs and Test Development using the Angoff Process. While earlier in his career he produced, and aired a radio talk show. The program and its guests covered areas of food safety, cost control, human resources, marketing, and other industry topics. He is also the author of The Professionals Guide for Food and Beverage Operations.

He has been involved in Online Food Safety Training from its introduction, and was instrumental in the application of online food safety testing and certification. Along with an ongoing participation in the development of future systems for higher education, cut score studies, and web delivery development.

Jaros created marketing plans and strategy to promote various retail outlets and services for The Hilton Inn. He has held positions of District Manager, General Manager, and Consultant for numerous independent restaurants, and major full service restaurant chains. He was an owner/operator of a full service restaurant chain in the Midwest, and an Instructor for the University of California.

Degrees, Accreditations, Licenses, and Certifications

Bachelor of Science (BS) / Food Service Management

Master of Business Administration (MBA) / Management and Operations

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) with distinction in Business Development

American Hotel & Lodging Association Certified Instructor

National Environmental Health Association Accredited Instructor / CPFM-HACCP

National Restaurant Association ServSafe / Applied Foodservice Sanitation

NSF International CPFM Instructor / HACCP Manager / Instructor

Prometric Educator / Proctor / Council Board Member